LITTLE BEAUTIES No.2.

RUDOLPH PABST.

The musical score is written for piano and consists of five systems. Each system contains a treble staff and a bass staff. The time signature is 2/4. The melody is primarily in the treble staff, while the bass staff provides a rhythmic accompaniment with chords and eighth notes. The piece concludes with a double bar line and repeat dots at the end of the fifth system.

TRIO.

The first system of musical notation for the Trio section, measures 1-5. It features a treble and bass staff. The treble staff contains a melody of eighth and sixteenth notes. The bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and moving lines.

The second system of musical notation for the Trio section, measures 6-10. The melodic line in the treble staff continues with eighth notes, while the bass staff maintains a steady accompaniment.

The third system of musical notation for the Trio section, measures 11-15. The melody in the treble staff shows some variation in rhythm, including a quarter note. The bass staff continues with a consistent accompaniment.

The fourth system of musical notation for the Trio section, measures 16-20. The treble staff features a more active melodic line with eighth notes. The bass staff provides a solid harmonic foundation.

The fifth system of musical notation for the Trio section, measures 21-25. This system includes a double bar line, indicating a structural change or the end of a phrase. The melodic and accompaniment parts continue.

The sixth system of musical notation for the Trio section, measures 26-30. The final system on this page, showing the concluding measures of the Trio section with a final cadence in the treble staff.
